About

The Master's degree aims to train qualified teachers for the teaching of Visual Arts in the 3rd Cycle of Basic Education and Secondary Education, equipping them with up-to-date scientific, pedagogical, didactic, artistic and ethical skills. It provides solid, integrated training, combining theory and practice in an interdisciplinary, reflective and collaborative approach. It promotes the planning, implementation and evaluation of innovative, inclusive teaching practices tailored to the diversity of school contexts. It values action research, reflective supervision and continuous professional development. Students are prepared to integrate the challenges of contemporary education, including citizenship, diversity, sustainability and the digital and ecological transition, contributing to culturally meaningful learning and critical, ethical and transformative teaching.
